

Marshall University Doctoral Student/Faculty

Fall Seminar

October 13, 2012

Graduate School of Education and Professional Development

Recognition and Thanks

I would like to thank each of you for attending this year's Doctoral Student/Faculty Seminar, which is an important part of our residency requirement and provides us the opportunity to network and learn from one another and the faculty. I hope that you find the sessions beneficial based on your current stage within the program.

The committee would like to recognize those students who have met milestones in the doctoral program this past year. These students can be identified at today's seminar by the badge they are wearing. If you see them, please take a moment and congratulate them on their achievement! In addition, we would like to give special recognition to our newest graduates. A full list can be found at <http://www.marshall.edu/wpmu/edd/files/2012/08/Program-Graduates.pdf>

I extend my personal thanks to this year's seminar committee for all of the hard work and effort they put forth, in spite of their busy schedules, including their positive attitudes, ability to collaborate and brainstorm ideas, as well as the connections they made with students and faculty. The committee members are the driving force behind the seminar and without them today's event would not have been possible. I hope they all know just how much I appreciate each of them!

I would also like to take a moment and thank the faculty and staff for their contributions. The doctoral faculty plays an instrumental role in making the seminar possible. They are always willing to contribute in any way they can, especially when it comes to presenting sessions. Their wisdom and expertise is what guide us through the program and the committee and myself are honored to be able to work in collaboration with each of them. The staff here at GSEPD also put forth a tremendous amount of effort in the organization, set up and implementation of the doctoral seminar. The committee and I thank them for their contributions.

Thank you again for attending today's seminar. Please do not forget to submit your seminar evaluation via Survey Monkey. The information you provide makes us aware of what you want and need in order for us to keep bringing you interesting and helpful sessions, as well as ways to improve the upcoming year's seminar experience. https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/EdD_Exit.

For a complete list of this year's graduates and students who have met other milestones (portfolio/prospectus/etc) as well as a list recognizing each of the seminar committee members and volunteers by name, please visit the doctoral program website at <http://www.marshall.edu/wpmu/edd/current-students/fall-2012-seminar/>. A special thanks to Jessica Hanna for all the work she has put into creating a quality website for the doctoral program.

Sincerely,

Melissa R. Rhodes, Doctoral Student/Faculty Seminar Committee Chairperson

Today's Keynote Speaker

Today's keynote speaker is Dr. Frances Hensley, who recently retired from her position as Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs at Marshall University. She holds a B.A. and M.A. in Social Studies Education from Marshall University and a Ph.D. in History from Ohio State University.

Dr. Hensley's research has focused on women's issues in the Appalachian region. Publications include "The Woman's Rights Movement, 1848 to the Civil War," and "Women in the Industrial Work Force in West Virginia, 1880-1945." She also served as an editor of "Missing Chapters II: West Virginia Women in History."

Dr. Frances Hensley is honored with the 2012 Distinguished Service Award

Dr. Hensley will share her insights on Millennials in the Classroom: OMG! LOL!

Suggested sessions for new students:

10:00 - Noon

Students admitted January - August 2012 - Report to the library following the continental breakfast (room 116) for year one of LS 719, Introduction to Doctoral Studies.

Noon – 1:00

Pick up your pizza and salad selections in the first floor lobby and proceed to Room 116. Lunch is an opportunity to talk with faculty members and network with other students.

While you are free to attend any sessions in the afternoon (see session descriptions on the following pages), the Doctoral Student/Faculty Seminar Committee suggests the following as being most beneficial to the first year student:

1:00 – 2:00

MU Online Room 217; Guidelines to help navigate and utilize MUOnline covering a variety of topics, including help desk, library, training and services, browsers and browser versions, dummy accounts for instructors and opportunities to co-develop online course for portfolio Dr. Heaton and Georgia Thornton

Educational Trends in Public Schools Thomas Board Room; 2012, WV Superintendent of the Year, Blaine Hess will address future educational trends. Doctoral students will have an opportunity to interact with him in a small group setting. Superintendent Hess is a graduate of Marshall University's Ed Leadership Program. Blaine Hess and Dr. Kolsun

Conference Preparation Room 134; The conference experience, from how to find a conference you would like to attend/present at, the preparation process to what to expect while participating. Personal experiences from professors and students who have presented will also be shared. Drs. Watts & Hisiro, Lori Comer, Brent Griffith, Alan Laugh

2:10 – 3:00

Utilizing Library Resources Room 217; Join us for the level of instruction that you need! We will start with the basic library services and resources offered through Marshall Libraries and then progress to working with specific databases that best match your research needs. Learn how to submit requests for electronic interlibrary loan and how to navigate the Dissertations and Theses full text database. Lynn Edington

Still Hopelessly Confused After LS 719 Room 323; You spent this morning in one of the LS 719 sessions. You still have some unanswered questions. This session is designed to assist newer students in navigating the traditional doc program. Elbert Davis, Marc Ellison, Kandas Queen, Melissa Rhodes, and Edna Thomas

Fall 2012 Doctoral Student/Faculty Seminar Session Descriptions

All Day – Students who are actively writing their dissertations are encouraged to schedule meeting time with their chairs or committee member(s) prior to October 10th.

8:45 – 9:50: Registration, first floor lobby

9:00 – 9:45: New Student Continental Breakfast/Meet the Faculty in Room 116

10:00 – 10:45:

Welcome and awards: Room 134 and broadcast to Rooms 134, 135, 137, 319, and 323; Dr. Teresa Eagle, Dean of GSEPD, welcomes seminar attendees and honors those students who have reached doctoral program mile stones.

Key-note Address:

Dr. Hensley will share her insights on Millennials in the Classroom: OMG! LOL! this morning with an address to students and faculty at 10:00. This address will be broadcast from Room 134 to Rooms, 134, 135, 137, 319, and 323. A Q&A session will follow during Session 1 (11:00 to 12:00) in Room 134.

This key note will focus on the impact of the Millennials--and their parents-- on schools and schooling. *Who are the Millennials? *How are they different from us? *What are the implications of these differences on pedagogy and practice?

10:00 – Noon:

LS 719, Introduction to Doctoral Studies: for students admitted from January 2012 through Fall 2012 in the library with Dr. Cunningham, Melissa Rhodes and Kandas Queen

11:00 – noon:

LS 719, Introduction to Doctoral Studies Year Two, Room 116 ; Drs. Eagle & Kolsun, Elbert Davis and Marc Ellison

Continued Discussion on Millenials in the Classroom: OMG! LOL! Room 134; Drs. Hensley & Campbell, Kay Lawson

Portfolios on Display Room 135; Browse a sampling of portfolios, binders, CD's and websites. Dr. Spatig and Debbie Lockwood

Post Portfolio Paralysis Room 137; A panel of students who have successfully made (or are working on it) the transition from coursework to dissertation writing will lead a discussion on how to manage this part of your doctoral program. Practical strategies, what works and what hasn't worked will be shared. Dr. Sottile, Mindy Allenger, Jean Chappell, and Joy Cline

Models of Research and Data Collection Room 217; An overview of both qualitative and quantitative models of research as well as details on the types of data collection related to each model of research. Drs. Debela & Securro, Jenny Santilli

APA Style Thomas Board Room; Discuss and work through examples of the types of references encountered in dissertation and report writing. Questions regarding APA Style and specific references participants would like to work on will be addressed. Dr. Meisel and Sherri Shafer iPad Apps Room 319; This session offers information on iPad apps/features that can be used in the educational setting. Dr. Cottle and Beth Wolfe

Noon – 1:00 Lunch with chair; Room 116 for students who do not have a chair
(Room assignments are on your name tag)

1:00 – 3:00

The Portfolio Process, Preparation and Presentation Room 116; An overview of the portfolio process from beginning to end including brief presentations from students about their individual journeys through the portfolio process. Dr. Skoretz, Ruthann Arneson, Patty Blake, & Frances Pack

Mock Dissertation Defense Room 319; A recent dissertation defense entitled “Teacher Perspectives on Performance Based Student Assessment in Career and Technical Education in West Virginia Public Schools” will be analyzed and discussed by the graduate and chair. Drs. Childress & Tuckwiller

1:00 – 2:00

Conference Preparation Room 134; The conference experience, from how to find a conference you would like to attend/present at, the preparation process to what to expect while participating.
